Dear Gerry:

I am enclosing as promised a copy of the brief we just filed regarding the unsealing of the court file in your case. I am sure you would also want to know of a recent Oregon case in which the court reversed protective orders that not only sealed material but also required the plaintiff (who was suing Honda for injuries sustained in using an all terrain vehicle) to return to Honda all the documents obtained during discovery. The court not only ordered that Honda return those documents to plaintiff's counsel but agreed that they could be used to assist other plaintiff's against Honda.

Very truly yours,

Toby L. Plevin
